A client's Christmas story...

Christmas was always an interesting time at our house. Although our girls were into their teen years, our dog, Roo, was still young and full of beans.

From the time we brought her home, it seemed that Roo's interest in Christmas increased as each year passed. She began by just sniffing around the tree to see if she could find her presents. But one Christmas, Roo took to grabbing a present and running to the back door. She would get outside and then realize there might be more presents under the tree and demand to be let in.

It reached a point when we had to hide all presents and only place them under the tree Christmas morning.

Dogs are definitely family members and Christmas can be as big an occasion for them as us. So what to buy that happy family member for Christmas?

Sure, you can resort to the practical things such as a new leash, collar or food bowls. But what would your dog really like?

Tango wishes everyone a Merry Christmas!

When we think about the right Christmas gift for our dog, we can't go wrong with treats. Therefore a gift-wrapped package of treats works.

Then we add in a bone or two, size and shape depend on your dog. Finally, a new play toy such as a kong or ball is always fun.

Make your best friend a part of your holiday activities. You will have the merriest of occasions and a good start on a happy new year!

SuperDog Central Christmas Gift Suggestions

Make this holiday season the merriest for your special friend. Superdog Central has the ideal gift package waiting.

Give a gift of a visit to our grooming salon. Your best friend will look and feel wonderful during the holidays.

Does your dog love to hang-out with their friends rather than be part of a big family gathering? This holiday season book into one of our safe, happy, stress-free boarding or daycare programs.

Your dog can romp and play in our 8,000 sq. ft. climate-controlled doggie gymnasium, which is adjoined by a fully secure 1/2 acre outdoor play yard. Fresh air, country fun.

Start the New Year off with the best in dog training. Client's who have attended SuperDog Central's training sessions rave about the friendly, helpful trainers and they especially love all the new friends they meet. Book early for this Superdog Central experience. Life will be better for both of you.

And one last suggestion. Look into giving the gift of attending SuperDog Central's small dog or puppy socials. Way too much fun for a Sunday morning!

New for the New Year!!!

By popular demand SuperDog Central is launching it's small-dog daycare program in January. Little dogs deserve to have as much fun as the big dogs. Why not? They have just as much energy, or to be honest, more energy than the big dogs (LOL). They can get into just as much trouble when they are bored and who wants to come home to mischief after a long day at work....

We have reserved a part of our play-all-day program just for the little guys. They can romp outside in the sunshine or come inside where it's nice and warm and cozy. By the time you come to pick them up, they'll be ready for dinner and to settle-in for an evening on the couch watching your favourite program.

The staff at SuperDog Central would like to wish you and your superdog a wonderful Holiday Season.
